

Glass Onion Creative

Pitch winning concepts, design and visuals.

Senior Spacial Designer with 15+ years delivering retail, environmental and brand-led spaces for global brands across large multinational agencies and independent creative studios.

Operating usually as Design Lead, with experience leading small design teams and establishing visual direction on complex experiential and brand environment projects across the globe.

Proven capability across creative leadership, spatial concept development and production-ready technical resolution.

Regularly engaged by top global agencies as a trusted senior creative design partner, contributing at peer level to strategic concept development and high-value pitch narratives.

Using AI-assisted workflows grounded in designed 3D space — enabling fast, to-scale scamps for early concept development and supporting the delivery of fully resolved visuals, while maintaining creative authorship and spatial rigour.
